

Under no circumstances should private phone numbers or cell phone numbers be made available to commercial concerns. Since the new law came into place I have received no solicitation calls - wonderful, I can actually eat my supper in peace. The "established business relationship" is not valid, if I want to do business I am intelligent enough to call and not to have telemarketers call me. Thank you